ROLOFF OFF FOR CUBA

The Biggest Expedition That Has Yet Sailed.

ITS LANDING MAY FREE CUBA.

Eight Thousand Rifles, Three Cannons and Two Repeating Guns of an Improved Make—The Entire Expense Three Hundred Thousand Dollars—More of General Weyler's Injustice.

NEW YORK, Feb. 23.—The reason for General Roloff's sudden and secret departure for Cuba is now revealed. The Cuban secretary of war is in charge of the most important expedition that has ever gone to Cuba, and if it lands safely there will be a tremendous blow to the cause of Spain. It carries 8,000 rifles, three cannons, two repeating guns of an improved make, firing each 100 shots a minute, with the advantage that the firing can be stopped at will, and a quantity of explosives equal to all that had been sent to Cuba before.

The expedition it is said in Cuban circles to have sailed from a point on the New Jersey coast not far from Long Branch for Cuba. The Cubans have experienced so much difficulty with chartered steamers that General Roloff decided to purchase one. Her name could not be learned, but report had it that she came from the neighborhood of Philadelphia, and was larger than any which had yet carried men and arms to Cuba.

All of the money collected by the Cuban delegation here after the death of Maceo has been spent on the expedition, and more besides. The general cost was estimated at about $300,000.

Among the Cubans here it is believed that the fate of the revolution depends in great part on General Roloff's success. If he should be captured it would mean great disaster to the cause; but if the expedition lands, it means 8,000 Cubans more under arms and a formidable help for General Gomez's plans.

The men who go with Roloff, and who are said to be 100, have been carefully selected among the Cubans in the United States.

A great enthusiasm prevails among the Cuban revolutionary clubs here about the expedition and the management of it is highly praised.

WEYLER'S INJUSTICE.

Francis H. Laine, a Native of France, Has a Grievance.

NEW YORK, Feb. 23.—Francis H. Laine, a native of France, arrived here yesterday on board the Havana steamer. He has a story of Cuban injustice to tell. After having been held a prisoner in the Cabanas fortress at Havana for more than 13 months, Mr. Laine was released eight days ago through the efforts of the French consul at Havana.

Mr. Laine was originally sentenced to 30 years' imprisonment and it was only after urgent appeals to the authorities at Madrid that he finally succeeded in getting his release. He says that he did nothing to cause his arrest, but incurred the displeasure of General Weyler, who would have sent him to a penal colony had not the Madrid government ordered his release.

HAVANA, Feb. 23.—The insurgent leader Benito Alfonso and 20 privates have surrendered in the province of Pinar del Rio.

Senor Arnelio Mesa and Gregorio Perez have been shot at Sagua.

Colonel Pintos, after two hours' hard fighting, defeated an insurgent band near the trocha at Jucario. The insurgent loss was heavy. Eighteen of the government soldiers were wounded.

HAVANA, Feb. 23.—Thomas G. Alvord, the correspondent of the New York World, has arrived at Havana. He has just paid a visit to Sylvester Scovel, the war correspondent of the New York World, now in jail at Sancti Spiritus, in the province of Santa Clara. Mr. Alvord found Mr. Scovel in a comfortable condition and in good spirits.

AN OCEAN DISASTER.

A German Tank Steamer and Thirty-Five Lives Probably Lost at Sea.

BOSTON, Feb. 23.—The German tank steamer Diamant, Captain Wischhausen, and 35 men were probably lost with all hands 280 miles southeast of Halifax, Feb. 17, or else she has been drifting at the mercy of the elements ever since. Such is the opinion of Captain Forth of the Furness line steamer Galileo, which has just reached this port from London. Captain Forth attempted to tow the Diamant and to save her crew, but the hawser parted and the tank steamer disappeared from view so quickly that it is believed she went down.

Captain Forth says he sighted the tank steamer Feb. 10, showing signals of distress, having lost her propeller. The steamer was taken in tow, but the next day she broke away. This was repeated until the 17th, when she disappeared altogether.

The Galileo had towed the Diamant 600 miles. Captain Forth cruised around nearly a day, but saw no trace of the steamer and so resumed his course. While he believes the Diamant has foundered, Captain Forth thinks that the empty tanks may have kept her afloat, and she is somewhere in the track of the European steamers.

OVERFLOWED RIVERS.

Steady Downfall of Rain All Over the Ohio Valley.

CINCINNATI, Feb. 23.—For 72 hours, up to 7 o'clock last night, a steady rain has fallen over the entire area of the immense water shed of the Ohio valley, with the exception of the mountainous portions of western New York and western Pennsylvania, where the telegraph reports rains still falling.

Already in the past 72 hours there has been by signal service measurement a rainfall of 8.11 inches here. On both sides of the Ohio, from the Big Sandy, the boundary between West Virginia and Kentucky, the tributaries are at high flood tide. Mountains at head waters of the Kentucky, Cumberland and Tennessee rivers are delivering into these great tributaries with great rapidity floods of melted snow and rain and filling the lower Ohio. All the tributaries of the left bank of the Ohio in Pennsylvania rise in the mountains, and there to the delivery of rainfall and melted snow is very rapid. Should the rain now cease the flood at this point will probably stop within the 55 foot mark, which would cause no great inconvenience. Should heavy rainfall occur over a considerable area of the Ohio valley there is no predicting which stage the waters would reach at Cincinnati.

Cumberland River Rapidly Rising.

NASHVILLE, Feb. 23.—Continuous and heavy rains along the upper Cumberland, as well as heavy local rains, are causing the river to rise rapidly, and it is expected that the danger line at this point will be reached Wednesday morning and the lowlands about the city flooded.

FOUR LIVES LOST.

Store and Residence Destroyed by Fire and Four People Perish.

HANNIBAL, Mo., Feb. 23.—Four persons lost their lives in a fire which destroyed the dry goods store of M. M. Marks, North Main street, at 3 o'clock yesterday morning. The rooms above the store were occupied by the Marks family and a number of other families. The fire originated from hot coals placed in an ash barrel in the hallway.

The occupants in the rooms on the second floors made a wild rush for safety. Those who escaped were obliged to leave behind all wearing apparel and personal effects. In the ruins were found the frightfully burned bodies of Proprietor Marks and his two young sons, Galvin and Herold, and that of William Reed, a barkeeper, who roomed on the second floor. Reed lost his life by returning for his clothing after he made a successful escape.

ASSEMBLAGE OF WOMEN.

Daughters of the American Revolution Meeting in Washington.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 23.—An assemblage embracing many women whose names are well known in every section of the country, filled the Columbia theater when the Sixth continental congress of the National Society of the Daughters of the American Revolution was called to order yesterday. Nearly 1,000 accredited representatives and others identified with the organization were present. The chief business of the congress will be the consideration of overtures for a consolidation with the Daughters of the Revolution, a rival society.

The sessions yesterday were largely devoted to addresses of officers and fraternal greetings from bodies whose principles are on similar lines. Mrs. Adlai Stevenson, the president general of the society and wife of the retiring vice president of the United States, presided. Grouped about her on the platform which was festooned with the American flag were the officers of the organization, including Vice Presidents General Mrs. A. G. Brackett, Mrs. H. V. Boynton, Mrs. John C. Mitchell of Wisconsin and Mrs. John W. Foster, the honorary president general. After Mrs. Stevenson had called the congress to order, Mrs. J. J. Bullock of this city, the chaplain general, offered prayer. Then the delegates on mass sang the Star Spangled Banner, led by Madame Utiaz Albertina of Washington, the Marine band accompanying.

The president general's address of welcome showed an increase in the full membership for the year of 6,006, making an aggregate membership of 18,239. She urged the establishment of a memorial hall in Washington and suggested that in this building Lexington, Concord, Bunker Hill and Saratoga be represented, as well as martyred ship prisoners, the Valley Forge heroes, Yorktown, Gentford Court House, Eutaw Springs and Kings Mountain. Referring to the contemplated consolidation, she said:

"The event which above all others has made the year notable is the step taken towards the union of the two societies, the Daughters of the Revolution and the Daughters of the American Revolution. Though the thought and hope had been in the air for many months, it took no tangible form until March 3, 1896, in resolutions, which have since brought us far in the right direction. May the day soon dawn when the patriotic women of this nation will be known as a national organization, with one name, one purpose."

In responding, Mrs. Elroy M. Avery of Cleveland, state regent for Ohio, said that the society numbers more members than all the other American hereditary societies together; is stronger financially and had accomplished more service. She pleaded for the union and the memorial hall project.

General A. W. Greeley, chief of the signal service, spoke in behalf of the Society of the Sons of the American Revolution. He pleaded for the incalculable in the minds of American youth of the importance of will power and right aspirations to the complete development of the individual.

Mrs. Annie B. Snow, president of the Society of the Daughters of the Revolution, delivered an address in behalf of that body. This closed the day session.

The afternoon was devoted to the celebration of the day by the National Society of the Children of the American Revolution. The features of the proceedings was an address by Mrs. Daniel Lothrop of Washington, the president.

REFORM PRESS ASSOCIATION.

The Annual Convention in Session at Memphis.

MEMPHIS, Feb. 23.—The Reform Press association met in annual convention in this city yesterday, about 300 delegates being present. Among those in attendance are Paul Vandervoort of Omaha, president of the association; Jacob S. Coxey of Ohio, Hon. Frank Burkitt of Mississippi and "Cyclone" Davis of Texas. National Committeeman George F. Washburn of Massachusetts is also present, but took no part in yesterday's proceedings.

The appointments of committees and the annual address of President Vandervoort occupied the morning session and the feature of the afternoon meeting was the election of Frank Burkitt of Mississippi as president for the ensuing year. The anti-fusion, middle-of-the-road element gave hearty support to President Vandervoort, an uncompromising anti-fusionist, and the meeting is decidedly of the middle-of-the-road complexion.

President Vandervoort's recommendation that National Chairman Butler be deposed was received with loud applause from all parts of the hall.

An invitation was voted to the reform papers of the country to join the association. There was considerable opposition to the motion on the ground that only papers of pronounced Populistic principles should be accepted as members of the association.

A committee was appointed to revise the by-laws and constitution, so as to give the president and secretary authority to strike from the rolls any member of the association found advocating the cause of other parties.

By a rising vote Hon. Frank Burkitt of Mississippi was unanimously elected president of the association for the ensuing year. Mr. Burkitt addressed the convention briefly, thanking the delegates for the honor conferred upon him. The convention at 4 p. m. adjourned.

Last night the delegates were entertained with a concert at the Peabody hotel.

DIED OF LUMPY JAW.

Doctors Know of but One Other Similar Death From That Disease.

CHICAGO, Feb. 23.—Peter L. Garvey, 50 years old, died at the county hospital last night after having undergone an operation for what Dr. J. G. Robertson of that institution diagnosed as lumpy jaw. Dr. Robertson knows of only one other case in which a human being was afflicted with lumpy jaw.

Garvey had been suffering from the malignant disease for more than a year. He is supposed to have contracted the disease while working among cattle at the stockyards. More than a year ago Garvey had a tooth extracted from his left jaw, and it is the opinion of the physician at the hospital that a germ of disease became lodged in the cavity, causing the infection.

REEKING WITH HUMAN BLOOD.

How the British Naval Expedition Found Benin City.

LONDON, Feb. 23.—A dispatch from Brass, on the west coast of Africa, gives details relative to the capture on Feb. 18 of Benin City by the British naval expedition against the Emir of Nupe. There was an eight hours' running fight, and a stubborn resistance on the part of the Fulahs. Four of the whites, including Dr. Fyfe, were killed and 16 wounded.

The expedition found Benin City reeking with human blood. Many human beings had been sacrificed and crucified by the Fulahs. The troops destroyed the crucifixing trees and the "juju houses."

Accident at a Circus.

BROWNSVILLE, Tex., Feb. 23.—At a circus here last night a section of the elevated seats collapsed, precipitating 300 persons to the ground. Six may die. Many were more or less bruised. The seats were of heavy 6-inch beams tied to upright beams with ropes. It is claimed by the circus managers that one of the ropes was cut.

Archbishop Grace Dead.

ST. PAUL, Feb. 23.—Archbishop Thomas L. Grace died at St. Thomas' hospital yesterday. He was at one time bishop of this diocese, but on account of failing health was succeeded by Bishop Ireland. When the latter was made archbishop the deceased was made archbishop of a titular archbishopric in Europe.

Famous Chess Player Dead.

LONDON, Feb. 23.—A dispatch to The Daily Mail from Paris says that Dr. Steinitz is dead at Moscow. William Steinitz was born at Prague, Bohemia, on May 14, 1836. He early attained fame as a chess player. By his defeat of the late Professor Anderson in 1866 he first won the match championship of the world. Since then he has won and lost it several times. Last month at Moscow Steinitz was defeated by Lasker, who won the championship.

M'KINLEY NOT SO WELL.

His Condition Is Not Serious, However, but Visitors Must Stay Away.

CANTON, O., Feb. 23.—Major McKinley is not feeling so well as for several days past. He has a troublesome cough and more than ever needs rest for the remainder of his stay in Canton. Few callers have been at the house, but those who did call failed to obtain an audience. The president-elect's condition gives no cause for apprehension, the physician advising absolute rest and quiet, which will restore his strength and health. He will receive no visitors save the few who come by appointment.

Among the arrivals yesterday were William Hahn of Mansfield, chairman of the speakers' bureau of the national committee. He had a long talk with Private Secretary James Boyle, but did not disclose to others the object of his visit.

Another visitor was Dr. Johann Enander, LL. D., of Chicago, chief editor of the Hemblandsmet, the Swedish organ of Chicago.

Dr. Enander has been a newspaper man for 30 years, and is one of the best known men among his countrymen in the west. He was appointed minister to Denmark by President Harrison, but illness at the time compelled him to resign. He did yeoman service during the recent campaign, giving two or three months' time to speaking through Michigan, Minnesota, Nebraska, Iowa, Missouri, Kansas and South Dakota.

Although modestly refraining from stating the object of his call, he carries with him a package which very much resembles letters and indorsements, and it is probable he would not refuse the honor of representing this country in his native land if the place were offered him.

Among the late callers in the afternoon was M. H. DeYoung of California, who stopped off in Canton on his way home from a trip to Europe. Mr. DeYoung drove to the McKinley home, but was forced to forego the pleasure of an interview with the president elect. He said his call was of no political significance whatever.

Colonel John J. McCook, who has been frequently mentioned as the coming attorney general in the McKinley cabinet, is expected here soon for a conference with the president elect.

Governor Thomas of Utah was a visitor late in the evening.

BLONDIN IS DEAD.

He Was Undoubtedly the Greatest Rope-Walker of the World.

LONDON, Feb. 23.—Blondin, the rope-walker, is dead. He was born in 1824. He was undoubtedly the greatest of the rope-walkers of the world. His real name was Jean Francois De Lagravelot. He commenced rope-walking when only 4 years old and continued his wonderful exhibitions up to a few months ago. On Nov. 20, 1895, he married Catherine James at the Brentford registry office in England. The bride was many years the junior of her husband.

Blondin crossed Niagara Falls on June 30, 1859, in the presence of nearly 50,000 people. It was the first time this feat had been attempted.

Train Held Up.

MUSKOGEE, I. T., Feb. 23.—News had been received at the marshal's office here of an attempt to hold up a train on the Iron Mountain road at Watova. When the northbound accommodation train took the siding at Watova two masked men entered the coach and compelled Conductor Wallace to hand over the few dollars he carried. At this juncture the regular passenger train pulled in. It had been the intention of the robbers, apparently, to hold up this train, but the alarm had been given and a crowd of armed citizens gathered so quickly that the outlaws sought safety in flight.

Tenement House Blown Down.

MIDDLESBORO, Ky., Feb. 23.—A heavy rain and windstorm passed over here at 6 last night. A tenement house containing three families, 10 persons in all, was blown down. Mrs. Jackson had her chin broken and was hurt about the head; Lindy Johnson, a child, had his skull broken; Mary Johnson's head was hurt, and another child was more or less injured.

Suicided at His Sweetheart's Gate.

BUTLERVILLE, Ind., Feb. 23.—Charles Huddleson, a young man of 20 years, without friends, was found dead at the gate of Thomas Marshall's, two and a half miles west of this place, Saturday. It is supposed to be suicide caused by despondency on account of being rejected by Miss Kate Marshall.

Death of an Army Officer.

PITTSBURG, Feb. 23.—Lieutenant Colonel Francis W. Parker, U. S. A., commandant of the Allegheny arsenal, died yesterday of consumption. He was born in 1835, and has had a long and honorable career in the service of his country.

Children Burned to Death.

PERRY, O. T., Feb. 23.—The children of John Cain, a farmer living near here, set fire to the grass in their dooryard. The clothing of Nora, aged 4, and of a boy, aged 2, caught fire and both were burned to death.

Proclamations Signed.

Result of a Drunken Quarrel.

PINEVILLE, Ky., Feb. 23.—In a drunken quarrel Tip Riley shot Joe Holmes twice in the head. He may die. Both are colored.

BOMBARDING RESULT.

Fifteen People Wounded by the Crete Cannonade.

THREE OF THEM CONVENT NUNS.

Great Indignation Aroused All Over Greece and the War Feeling Is Rampant—A War of Extermination Being Carried on in Crete—French Admiral Makes a Report Other War News.

CANEA, Feb. 23.—Fifteen Christians, including three nuns of the Elias convent, were wounded by the cannonade of the warships on the insurgent position near here Sunday. The damage done was purely material. The French and Italian warships did not open fire, because the Greek flag was lowered by the insurgents before their turn came. Five thousand insurgents arrived within half an hour after firing commenced.

Advices from Candia are to the effect that the water supply has been diverted and that the governor has twice vainly asked foreign admirals to land marines.

The English, Italian and Russian consuls have returned from Selinos, accompanied by 170 Mussulman fugitives. They were unable to hold conferences with the chiefs of the belligerents, who are conducting a war of extermination. Both sides have brutally massacred prisoners. Two thousand civilians and 250 Turkish soldiers are resisting the advance of the insurgents with three cannons. Their position is extremely critical.

The consuls proceeded to Cadano on board a ship. The Christians there, although advised of their arrivals, fired on the consuls in spite of the white flag of truce which they carried. The consuls returned to Selinos, where the Christians occupied fresh positions. Here, also, the consuls were fired upon, the shots falling around the ship.

The insurgents have rehoisted their flag at Halepa, but they have not fired on the Turks, who have planted a flag 1,500 yards from the insurgent position.

ALL GREECE AROUSED.

The Country Determined to Take No Backward Step.

ATHENS, Feb. 23.—A great indignation meeting was held here yesterday in order to protest against the bombardment Sunday by warships of the powers of the insurgent camp near Canea. Shouts were raised for war and the speakers vehemently declared that the country was now fully determined to sacrifice its blood and treasure in aid of Crete. Premier Delyannis addressed a crowd of people from the terrace in front of the ministry of finance and declared that the cabinet was in perfect accord with the nation, which might be assured that the government will do its duty.

It is reported that the minister of war has resigned.

The minister for foreign affairs has called at the foreign embassies and has lodged a protest against the bombardment of the insurgent camp by the foreign warships.

The Greek ship Thessalia returned to Milos, having failed to land arms and provisions anywhere on the Cretan coast owing to the foreign warships.

Prime Minister Delyannis, in the legislative chamber, denied all of the reports of the landing of Turkish troops on the island of Crete.

POTIER WANTS INSTRUCTIONS.

The Commander of the French Squadron Makes His Report.

PARIS, Feb. 23.—An official dispatch received here from Admiral Pottier, the commander of the French squadron off Canea, island of Crete, states that the admirals have informed their respective governments that anarchy continues to increase in Crete and that they can not any longer be answerable for the avoidance of conflicts unless they are authorized to prevent the landing of all provisions and the powers obtain the recall of the Greek troops and warships.

The admiral adds that during Sunday, in spite of the repeated protests of the commanders of the foreign fleets, the insurgents' outposts continued to advance and engaged in a fusillade with the Turkish outposts before Canea. After consultation the British, Austrian, German and Russian ships opened fire, and only ceased when the Greek flag was lowered.

Impossible to Draw Back.

LONDON, Feb. 23.—A dispatch to The Chronicle from Athens says: "It is believed that it has been decided to call out three more classes of reserves. It is impossible for the King of Greece to draw back. If he should do so there would be neither crown nor government within 24 hours."

King George Will Take Command.

BERLIN, Feb. 23.—The Lokal Anzeiger is authority for the statement that the King of Greece has sent a telegram to Christian IX, King of Denmark, to the effect that he has decided to sail for Crete to take command of the Greek forces there.

More Warships Ordered to Crete.

MILOS, Feb. 23.—The Greek warships here have been ordered to start for Crete immediately under the command of Prince George.

INDICATIONS—Showers in the morning, followed by fair weather; probably fair Wednesday; northwest winds and colder.

The news that Governor Bradley had been invited to Canton by President-elect McKinley has cheered the drooping spirits of those who are hanging on to his coat-tails.

The Public Ledger will now devote a column or two telling about that visit of Governor Bradley to Canton. Of course it's all settled who will distribute the "pie" in Kentucky.

GOVERNOR BUSHNELL of Ohio has been whipped into line and meekly announces that he will appoint Boss Hanna to succeed Senator Sherman when that statesman vacates to enter McKinley's Cabinet. Thus will another millionaire be added to the list in the Senate—"the millionaires' club."

WILLIAM JENNINGS BRYAN, the gallant leader of the masses last fall, has some excellent reasons for rejoicing over his own defeat, regarded from a pecuniary standpoint. If he lives he will be a far wealthier man four years hence than President McKinley. It is announced on good authority that his book is bringing him in an income of more than $100 a day, and his publisher will be glad to buy his interest in the work for $50,000. Meanwhile, whenever he wishes to lecture he has only to say the word to get $500 a night. Besides this, he hasn't all the hungry horde of office seekers running after him.

The Cleveland Plain Dealer referring to the collapse of the steel rail pool and the boom in that line of business says:

It is true the sales are at low figures compared with those asked previous to the breaking up of the steel rail pool, but as there were practically no sales at all at the higher rates the present situation is in reality an improvement. Activity at low prices is better than stagnation with higher rates on the price list.

Yet low prices won't make millionaires out of the members of the trust as rapidly as the high rates they demanded while the pool was in existence. They overdid the matter, however, and put prices so high in their greed that they killed trade. They have wisely come to the conclusion that "activity at lower prices is better than stagnation with higher rates."

Respect the Stomach.

Few people do have proper respect for the stomach. If a thing "tastes good" and is not so hot or so cold as to be painful to the mouth or throat, it is swallowed by too many people regardless of consequences.

Do not give the stomach food that will irritate it or retard it in the performance of its natural functions, or it will retaliate in a way that is decidedly unpleasant. A headache, a "lump," or "heavy feeling" in the stomach, and irritations of the skin, are mostly symptoms of disordered digestion resulting from unwholesome food.

Alum baking powders are responsible for the larger part of this unwholesome food, for it is a fact well recognized by physicians that alum renders food indigestible and unwholesome.

The danger to health from this cause is so imminent that it behooves every one to adopt precautionary measures to keep alum baking powders, which are now so numerous, from the kitchen stores. It will be found that those powders sold at lower price than Royal are almost invariably made from alum, and therefore of inferior quality and dangerous to health.

The safer way is to look for the well-known red-and-yellow label of the Royal Baking Powder. That is certain to cover a powder free from alum. The Royal is made of cream of tartar, a pure, wholesome fruit acid derived from grapes. It is renowned for adding anti-dyspeptic qualities to the food, as well as for making finer and better food.

ALL claims for Dr. Bell's Pine Tar Honey are substantiated by the reports from those who have used it. Coughs, colds, incipient consumption, and all bronchial affections are the diseases in which it is especially efficacious. For sale by Thos. J. Chenoweth, druggist.

DR. S. T. MCCLUNG.

He Has Gone Back to West Virginia—His Arrest Recalls An Incident at Louisville.

[Louisville Star-Truth.]

Several reports have in the last few days come from Maysville in regard to a forgery charge against Dr. S. T. McClung. It seems that Dr. McClung had written letters to different parties and used the signature of one of them to effect the forgery. The latest news is that Dr. W. Carroll Chapman, of Louisville, had gone up to Maysville and deposited $500 as bail for McClung and that the latter had been released from jail. It is also said that Dr. McClung married in Louisville and that he graduated at the Louisville Medical College. The Star-Truth happens to remember an episode connected with one S. T. McClung that may serve to throw a gleam of light on the Maysville affair. One evening about four years ago an overcoat was stolen from one of the professors at the Louisville University during a lecture. As soon as the coat was found missing the detectives were put on the track of the thief and in a very short time S. L. McClung, a medical student, was caught trying to pawn it at a pawnbroker's on Market street.

He was taken to the central station and a large number of blank checks of different banks were found in his pockets. It happened just then that the detectives were on the lookout for some one who was forging checks on the bank deposits of a number of students of the university. In a short time McClung was identified as the forger. He was not prosecuted for the forgeries, but indicted for stealing the coat. However, on account of his youth and of his having a large family of brothers and sisters, all parties concluded to give him a chance to redeem himself, and Judge Jackson was persuaded to file away the indictment. McClung then left the city and in a few days the Courier-Journal contained a gauzy story from an anonymous writer, who detailed how he happened to be passing the university, saw the overcoat, was in need of one, and took it to his hotel when on the way to a pawn shop to raise money on it. At the hotel, however, he found awaiting him a draft from his father, whose displeasure had been the cause of his need. He had then started back to the school with the coat, but finding the building locked up, he became alarmed and sold it to McClung for a dollar. Further, he had gone next day to the Police Court and saw McClung sent up to the grand jury and to jail, but could not muster courage to save him by revealing his own identity and his connection with the crime. The bearing of this will be recognized when we say that there is no Dr. W. Carroll Chapman in Louisville, that excellent gentleman having died nearly two years ago. Is the pretended appearance of Dr. Chapman at Maysville a ruse of McClung's to produce an impression of his high standing in Louisville?

Portsmouth Times: "Dr. and Mrs. Samuel T. McClung are packing up their goods and will move up into West Virginia with Dr. McClung's people. Dr. McClung left several days ago."

Mr. J. H. Wallingford after spending several days with his son, Dr. Wallingford of Newport, has returned home. He reports his son getting a lucrative practice, which is still increasing. He says his wife is improving in health under the treatment of Dr. Wallingford. Mrs. Wallingford will return home when the weather settles, much improved in health.

Miss Annie Darnall spent several days very agreeably with her sister-in-law, Mrs. Birdie Darnall. Mrs. Darnall is a very entertaining hostess and tries to make everything pleasant for her guests. Miss Annie will return to Indiana this week, taking her wedding trousseau with her. Mrs. Darnall has the honor of getting up the outfit. We wish Miss Annie all the happiness of this life.

We had the pleasure of meeting our old friend, Mr. Miller Galbreath, Sunday, who is a former citizen of this neighborhood. We found him a strong silver man who believes Bryan will be the next Democratic candidate for President. He believes that the Democracy will finally succeed as "truth is mighty and must prevail." He is a life-long Democrat and for thirty years a subscriber to the Courier-Journal, but when the C. J. left Democratic grounds and turned against the interest of the people he stopped his support. He wants to buy a store house, take a silent partner and set up in business. We wish him success.

The camel is a beast of great strength and endurance. Nothing hurts it until the proverbial "last straw" is added to its burden. The human digestive system is very much like a camel. It is really astonishing how much abuse it will stand. Sometimes however, something worse than usual will be eaten, and will go through the stomach into the bowels, and there it will stick—that's constipation. Nine-tenths of all human sickness is due to constipation. Some of the simplest symptoms are coated tongue and foul breath, dizziness, heartburn, flatulence, salivaceous, distress after eating, headaches and lassitude. A little thing will cause constipation, and a little thing will relieve it. Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets are a certain cure for constipation. They are tiny sugar-coated granules, mild and natural in their action. There is nothing injurious about them. Sold by druggists.

Important News of Wash Goods!

For making airy gowns for hot-weather wear we have just opened a tasteful selection of specialties in Organdies, Dimities and Lawns, which cannot fail to please the shopper looking for something eye-pleasing and money-saving. Beginning Monday, continuing until Friday and for CASH only we offer the two following attractions:

FRENCH ORGANDIES,

In white and colored grounds, with buds, blossoms, clusters that would almost mislead a bee. Fashion has given a high rank to all transparent materials for the coming season and these filmy beauties lead the file. The regular tickets say 35c. a yard, and they are high class fabrics for that price, but as an introduction to the wash goods selling, for four days, beginning Monday, and for cash only, we will sell them for 25c. Must come in person. Samples not cut nor goods sent out on approval.

DIMITIES AND LAWNS,

Plain and corded, black, white and colored grounds, stripes, dots and floral designs, marked at cash selling for four days, 5c. a yard, after that back to the original price, 8c. The most experienced shopper will pronounce them cheap at 8c and wonder how and why 5c. selling can be done. Well perhaps we'd rather advertise our wash goods stock than cull profits for four days.

TO PURCHASERS

of the above next Friday's sale will be of special interest. Don't fail to read advertisement Thursday.

The Quaker Crimped Crust Bread Pan

Gives more bread from a given amount of flour than any other pan. And it is sweeter, better bread—moist inside, rich brown outside, and never burnt. It can't burn. The steam in the pan won't let the bread burn. It is more nutritious, and will keep longer than any other bread without becoming stale.

ONE KILLED—TEN INJURED,

In That Wreck at Indian Run, But None of the Latter Fatally—Latest From the Scene.

The wreck of the C. and O.'s westbound fast express train at Indian Run Monday morning was one of the worst that has yet occurred on the Cincinnati division of the road. It was really the first serious mishap any of the fast trains have yet met with on this division.

Indian Run is between two and three miles west of South Portsmouth. The heavy rains had undermined the road bed, there being a fill of about fifteen feet at the point.

When the heavy train struck this stretch of the road the track gave away, and the engine went over and was almost buried in the sand, mud and water, the postal, baggage cars and day coaches following it.

As stated Monday, Roadmaster A. G. Stout, of Russell, was the only one killed. He was on the engine. When the engineer and fireman felt the engine sinking they jumped and this no doubt saved their lives. Stout also started to jump, but his clothing caught on some of the bars and he went down with the engine. The poor fellow was able to crawl out of the ruins, and his first inquiry was for the engineer and fireman. Death soon put an end to his sufferings.

Stout was formerly with the L. and N. He had been married twice, his last wife surviving him. She was a Miss Master-son, of Carlisle.

Following is a partial list of the injured: Engineer V. E. Fairhead, of Cincinnati, was cut on the head and sustained a bruised leg and elbow, not serious.

Others injured were Fireman H. Meyers, of Covington, hip and leg bruised, not serious. With the engineer he was covered with the debris of three cars.

Richard Maddock, of Portsmouth, leg sprained and bruised.

William Wolf, Portsmouth, leg badly crushed. R. J. Fitch, express messenger, of Covington, bruised about the chest; not serious.

M. D. Faulkner, baggagemaster, nose broken, eyes and face bruised; serious. F. D. Bradley, right shoulder and face bruised; not serious.

L. C. Turner, of Booneville, Va., leg sprained.

John Arvin, porter, of Covington, cut in face.

J. L. Gayle, mail clerk, cut on knee and head.

The company sent several of its surgeons promptly to the scene to look after the injured. Dr. Owens, of this city, Dr. Kearns, of Covington, and Dr. Muscroft, of Cincinnati, all went up on the wrecking train and assisted the surgeons already on the scene in caring for the injured.

Baggagemaster Faulkner will probably lose his sight as a result of his injuries. The track has been cleared and trains are again running on time.

For choice clover and timothy seed, go to Thompson & McAtee.

The illustrious order of Red Cross was conferred last night by Maysville Commandery No. 10, K. T., on Rev. J. S. Sims and Mr. H. E. Pogue, of this city, and Rev. L. G. Wallace and Mr. W. T. Kenton, of Mt. Olivet.

PRESIDENT INGALLS, of the Big Four and Chesapeake and Ohio, said Sunday that business was most certainly improving with the roads under his charge. He said that on Friday last the Big Four handled 5,300 loaded cars, which was a very heavy movement for one day. He says through passenger and freight business is good, and is improving, but that local business is not improving much, as all the country merchants are buying only as much stock as will carry them along.

LINCOLN J. CARTER, the young Chicagoan, author of the melodrama "The Fast Mail," is a remarkable young fellow in variety of accomplishment. He wrote his own play—and it's a good one of its class—he acts a principal part and does it well, he paints all his own scenery, constructs all his elaborate mechanical effects, and designs all the pictorial work used for advertising "The Fast Mail." Truly a bright young fellow, who creates his own career without tramping over anybody else.—Exchange.

THE gross earnings of the Louisville and Nashville Road for the second week of February were $385,990, a decrease of $9,590 as compared with those for the corresponding week of last year. For the two weeks of February a decrease of $14,975 is shown.

MR. ARTHUR F. CURRAN, of Dover, was in town Monday. He has been mentioned lately in connection with the Republican candidacy for County Assessor. Asked about the matter Monday, he said he was not a candidate, but if the Republicans tendered him the nomination he would accept it and make the race. Mr. Curran has heretofore affiliated with the Democrats.

THE residence of Samuel Walker, foreman of the Ohio Valley Furniture Company of Manchester, was burglarized Saturday night. The family had called on a neighbor and when they returned the burglars hearing them made their escape, taking with them all the silverware and money they could find. A note was found saying they were sorry they had no visiting cards.

IN the County Court at Covington Monday, in the cases of the Commonwealth of Kentucky against the Covington and Cincinnati Suspension Bridge Company and the C. and O. Railway Bridge Company for the collection of back taxes for county purposes, amounting to about $50,000 in each case, the demurrer of the attorneys for the defendants that the Auditor's agent had no right to bring the action was sustained. The plaintiff claims that it has a right to tax all that portion of both bridges spanning the Ohio river to low water mark on the Ohio side for county purposes. This the defendants deny, claiming that such a boundary line between the two States, although claimed, has never been established or fixed by the courts or Legislature.

BIG RIVER.

Close to the Fifty-Foot Mark Here and Rising Nearly Six Inches an Hour.

The Ohio River is on the biggest boom witnessed since the memorable floods of 1833 and 1884.

The marks here at 8:30 this morning showed a stage of 48 1-10 feet, and it was rising about five inches an hour.

Portsmouth reported fifty feet this morning and rising six inches an hour.

The reports from all points above say the river is rising fast. There are big floods in all the side streams. The Big Sandy was higher at Louisa Monday than it has been since 1862, and was still rising. Some of the crew of the Sherlev that passed down this morning said the Sandy was pouring out a tremendous stream into the Ohio yesterday afternoon.

Similar reports come from the Kanawha.

The rain fall Saturday night and Sunday amounted to about 2 inches, and yesterday and last night there was added to this a fall of 1.33 inches.

From all reports, a stage of at least sixty feet will probably be reached at this point.

A telegram from Huntington says 100,000 logs have been carried into the Ohio.

The electric cars have to transfer at the Bridge street and C. and O. crossing. Parties on lower Wall street are busy moving out to-day.

The water is up on "Dugan's corner." The ferryboat is making regular trips. Mr. William Wormald has a force of hands removing a lot of coke he had stored in a building at the corner of Front and Limestone.

Freight at Pittsburg is reported unusually heavy. The barge lines and packets also report traffic in metal products good.

The big towboat Joe B. Williams passed down Saturday. While lowering her chimneys for the Kenova bridge the lines broke and the chimneys crashed through the roof.

Mrs. Mary Greene, wife of Captain Gordon Greene, owner of the H. K. Bedford, had her license as a pilot renewed Friday and will twist the wheel on the Argand, owned also by her husband, between Pittsburg and Parkersburg.

M. P. PFEFFER, of Shelby County, and Miss Anna F. Tamme, of Mayslick, were granted marriage license Monday. February 25th is the date of the wedding.

ALL members of Knights of St. John are requested to meet at their hall to-night in full dress uniform. By order C. T. BROWN, Captain.

HAVE you ever laughed? Do you wish to? Go to the opera house next Friday night and witness "Lend Me Five Shillings." This is an old farce and as appropriate to-day as when first given. The entertainment will last just two hours, the curtain rising at 8:15,—the first half of which will be taken up with a sparkling musical program and the last half devoted to the farce.

"THE FAST MAIL," to be given here Wednesday night, is rendered under the personal direction of L. J. Carter, the author. The cast is said to be a capable one. The play is startling at times in the intensity of its climaxes, and these, when presented with all the effects of the intricate stage settings, bring the interest to a degree that is rarely attained even in the melodrama. A large number of people are employed in the production. Tickets at Nelson's.

LEXINGTON coal merchants have decided to sell coal by the ton in future. The cause for this action was the arrest of several for selling only seventy-two pounds to a bushel.

There is one institution in France which has hitherto contrived to withstand all the numerous and revolutionary changes of government—namely, the Bank of France, which owes its origin to the first Napoleon. The question as to the renewal of its charter came up recently for discussion in the legislature, which voted its prolongation. Since the foundation of the bank it has had but ten governors, while France has during the same period of time had no less than 9 different regimes and considerably over 100 cabinets.
